“Eulogy for Papa Wow! Feels like a family reunion but how I wish it's not this kind of event. But anyway, thank y'all for being here today with my Super Dad. I know dad is looking down right now on this and us and I truly believe he knows just how loved he really was. Our father would have loved all this attention. What can I say about the world greatest Dad? Super Dad... Our father was honorable, he was kind, he was more than fair, he was sweet, charismatic, he was gentle and he was so loving and most importantly, he was so generous. He cared with passion unlike anything that I have ever seen. My Dad taught me. When times were tough, he told me to keep moving. Life must go on. He worked hard at everything he put his hands on and created magic. He touch so many. Dad was incredible man. He loved life and he loved us, his family so much. I know we have all heard this before and I hadn't really realized it until now, that LIFE is a lot shorter than any of us realize and you just don't know what you have until it's gone. He was greatness and I miss him so much... I love the time I spent with Dad, especially when I was in Philippines. I used to go with him everywhere. I remember, I used to go with him to clean/pull some grass in our rice fields while it's raining. My cousin (Joanna) and I used to go to school at the day care center, he used to go and fetched my cousin every morning with his favorite bike despite his disability. That's my Super Dad. During elementary years, he would always teach us and guide us on our homework during lunch break especially Math subject. That became our lunch bonding time. I remember also, he used to give us allowance eventhough we don't have school. 100 pesos each every weekend and he comes home with this hamburgers in his hand cause there is this hamburger stand at our town close to his work that I never forget their burgers because it was really good. He used to buy it for us. A lot of memories engraved in our hearts and there were always lessons to be had. When he tell you a stories, he captivated the room. My father was simply put the greatest man I ever knew. He was an incredible husband and father to us kids, an incredible grandfather and incredible friend. He taught me so many lessons in life. I never stop moving and try to stay busy because of him. It is sad that he is gone but I know he is not in pain anymore, like my cousin Jocelyn said, he needs to rest peacefully in our God's arms now. I miss you and I love you Dad. You are and forever will be my hero/my Super Dad. God loved you and now you're home. I will see you again someday. Thank you Dad for everything that you've done for us. When I was at the hospital. You know how, they have to take your vital signs and all that, names of doctors and there was actually an interesting question on the very bottom of the white board. WHAT IS IMPORTANT TO YOU? Hmm... "FAMILY". So, to my family: Luke 1:37 say, "FOR WITH GOD, NOTHING SHALL BE IMPOSSIBLE" If we as a family can put our trust in God, we can and we will get through anything. While on the ride called LIFE, you have to take the good with the bad, smile when you are sad, love what you've got and remember what you had. Always forgive, but never forget. Learn from your mistakes but never regret. People change. Things go wrong. Just remember, the ride goes on and LIFE MUST GO ON. I love y'all and I love you Dad...
