“Connie and I met in the 5th grade, at Lincoln grade school in Toppenish Wa. She was kind, funny, thoughtful, and always smiling. A great and caring friend. We shared some fun times and pranks on Saturdays, when I would go over and help her do her housework chores. We were rewarded, if done well, with a day old doughnut from her Mothers work. Lol. She had such joy being a wife, mother, and Gramma, and being in charge of her business. Shared some great and funny stories of her travels and where she hid her art collection as it grew. A great and beautiful lady, inside and out. Her love will see you through this and her memories will bring laughter and joy, and ease your pain. Carol Griffith Johnson

“My heart is shattered. Connie was my BEST friend since the Second Grade. There will never be a friend more treasured than Connie. She filled my heart. She was my Sister. The most giving person I have ever known. We talked daily or weekly all of our lives. Im thankful she is out of pain. She is with me, and always will be.

“ A remarkable trooper to the end. I only wish I had spent more time together. These past few years have been unfair in many ways. She is now peacefully resting until we meet again.

“ A truly memorable lady who touched so many lives with her lively spirit and loving thoughtfulness. As she always said "I'm one tough cookie!" and she proved that to the very end. God rest your soul, you are finally pain free.

“ Connie was truly an amazing individual. She helped me become the women I am today. Her selflessness was her crown. I am heartbroken to have lost such a great friend and role model. Connie you taught me to Believe! I love you and will miss you always “ Connie was a strong woman who once told me a story of how she stood up to a deadbeat contractor by disabling the machinery he rented without paying for. He yelled and threatened, but Connie stood her ground. I admired her for that and enjoyed her friendship. She will always have a special place in my heart, and will be missed by all (except the contractor).
