“ To my lil brother I hate that I have to write this I never would of thought we be here doing this but I know how strong you were an I know I gotta keep my head up we had a bound that if ppl sit bk an observed we were lock in like no other im lucky enough to say that we rock day in an day out an as we both started are own family's we always stayed in touch an kept each other up to date on everything we had going. We would chop it up on the phone an trip out how my son and your lil brother started to rock with each other like we use to an it felt good to know that we are one of a kind an it would keep on going no matter what I know you'll be with me as I continue on this path I just want you to know I'm Missing you everyday and save me a spot right next to you bro love you till We meet again it's always us over them.
