“ Senhor José Vidal was a very good man . He is in my fondest memories of some of my best years growing up . He treated me like a father and was always opinionated but never judge mental . He may have not agreed with my choices but knew the meaning of unconditional love . He would always take me in and later on in my adult life was very proud of me even when my own father wasn't , and they were friends . Just goes to show the heart he had . I'm glad he got to see me do well in my life as a mother and a wife . I will never forget him and wish his family nothing but love and strength .
