

Luisito Holgado

June 21, 1944 - February 6, 2020

Obituary

Luisito Holgado was born on June 21, 1944 in Taal, Batangas, Philippines. He passed away on February 6, 2020 in San Francisco, CA. He is survived by his wife Susima Holgado, children Glenn Holgado, Rosalyn Holgado, Godwin Holgado, and grandson Camden Lucas Holgado. He also leaves behind his 3 brothers and 3 sisters along with numerous nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

Luisito was caring with a witty sense of humor. He was a friend to all. He enjoyed eating Chinese food, drinking Budweiser and Coca Cola, as well as watching TFC. Though his life's journey was marked with many challenges, his love for his family was the driving force to persevere and overcome the obstacles that he had faced in life. Luisito left a permanent mark on the hearts of all who knew him. He will be remembered, loved, and missed.

“ When I was a kid, I would often visit the Holgado residence after school to hang out with my best friend, Godwin. I remember his father would always be sitting by the door, getting some fresh air, drinking the sun as it surrounded him, seeming watching the world go by. At times, I thought to myself that must be a very lonely life. But then suddenly, before you know it, visitors would stop by, neighborhood friends of his, my own friends and I, and he would always greet each and every one of us with a warm smile. Mr. Holgado was surrounded by such a supportive cast of family and friends. Despite his debilitating condition, he persevered and was ultimately rewarded with seeing my best friend carry out a family of his own. As I reflect on Mr. Holgado and in the few times he has touched my life in passing, I think about what makes life worth living, what makes us hold on a little longer. For Mr. Holgado and many of us, life is worth living because of what's in front of us: our loved ones. For long as you have that ingredient, life is full, and no matter the hardships, it can never be diminished. Rest In Paradise, Mr. Holgado.

ME

“ To the Holgado family, Our deepest sympathy to Tita Susie, Glen, Ros and Godwin. May the comfort of God help you all through this difficult time. All the years I've known him he was such a pleasant, quiet man with the most beautiful and biggest smile on his face. He was such a kind and humble person. Now there's no more suffering and he's now in a better place with the Almighty God. May the light shine upon him on his way up to heaven and gained another angel to watch over his beloved family here on earth. One day he shall be reunited again with the family. You shall be forever remembered and missed and never forgotten. With love, Kelly, Melanie and family
