“ I want to thank you for your presence in my life, from the time I became cognizant of my surroundings you demonstrated to me through your actions that we can dream big and anything is possible as long as we put in the effort. You taught me to take risks, that sometimes it's ok to cross the double yellow lines. You taught to me to have courage and push through the obstacles of life. You stood right along side me in difficult times and together we became stronger. Thank you for the wonderful moments, and thank you for your love of family and friends. May the creator of all keep your soul and spirit filled with happiness. Until we are able to hug again I will carry you in my heart and your memory shall reside in my mind until my last breath. Love your brother Jesse and Elizabeth and family.

“ My heart is still broken, I can't believe your gone, I'll miss everything about you, your heart, your energy, your compassion, the way you loved and cared for everyone and so much more, you always had my back from a child to adulthood, good or bad you've always loved and cared for me unconditionally. You had such a big caring, giving heart and so much energy you loved to sing and dance and were always the life of the party and man you could get down on the cooking too, if you weren't on the dance floor you were in the kitchen cooking up some 🔥🔥 lol you were more than a Tia to me, you were my Godmother and definitely like a second mother to me as well. The boys also love you so sooooo much and have so many great memories of when they were little and how you spoiled them. A piece of me will be missing without you but I'll never forget all the great memories and love you gave me and all our entire family. Heaven truly gained an angel we love and miss you already so much Aunt Mary ❤️❤️

“ From the moment my now husband Anthony introduced me to Aunt Mary.. she showed her loving, funny, caring heart. A true Scorpio this woman. She said that’s why we got along cause we are both scorpions. She loved to cook and always had her place decked out.. not only on Christmas but all year around. Check out these spreads.. I feel honored to have shared meals, laughs, dance and karaoke with this truly special woman❤️❤️ love you always aunt Mary.

I wish I could play some of the music she loved in the background
